

ISN Newsletter
22.09.2016.

Members of the ISN Eastern & Central Europe Regional Board:

The deadline for application to the next sessions of the ISN programs is approaching: 1st October 2016. We would be grateful if you could promote ISN Programs via your networks and respective societies.

If you can spread this via your mailing lists, put a note on your websites, or even offer translation, below is a specific message that you can use. There is also a nice publication that has been released about our various activities in the region:

<http://www.theisn.org/publications/isn-yearbook>

Thank you very much in advance! and let me know if you need further information or other formats to be shared.

Best regards,

Marie-Pierre

+++++

Dear Colleague,

ISN is a unique medical society offering a broad range of educational and training activities for nephrology communities around the world.

The next application deadline is October 1st, 2016. Find out about the program that suits your needs and what you need to do to apply. If you have questions or are unsure how you can participate, contact our team or check out where we are already present in the world:

<http://www.theisn.org/programs/isn-programs>. and read all about our success stories from last year: <http://www.theisn.org/publications/isn-yearbook>

We also want to inform you that ISN is now using an online application system to collect applications and project proposals, you will be able to register and apply online, through the links below.

John Feehally
ISN Programs Chair
isnprograms@theisn.org

OUR PROGRAMS:

The Fellowship Program

Physicians from emerging countries get hands-on training in a developed renal center. Returning home, they share what they have learned, improve local care and start more ISN Programs.

Apply at <http://fellowship.theisn.org>

The Sister Renal and Transplant Centre Program

Renal centers in emerging countries partner with centers of excellence in the developing world. With educational support and guidance, the emerging centers become self-sufficient offering better care for patients. ISN and The Transplantation Society have also developed the Sister Transplant Centre Program to link transplantation centers.

Interested in the Sister Renal Centre, apply at <http://src.theisn.org>

Interested in Sister Transplant Centre, apply at <http://stc.theisn.org>

The Clinical Research Program

This program funds clinical research projects addressing local needs for acute and chronic kidney disease treatments in emerging countries.

Apply at <http://cr.theisn.org>

The Educational Ambassadors Program

ISN experts visit developing renal centers for one to four weeks to provide specific hands-on training or help develop new services, community-based research or screening programs.

Apply at <http://ea.theisn.org>

The Continuing Medical Education Program

The Continuing Medical Education Program offers essential teaching and training to developing medical communities. Expert speakers from both sides of the world share their knowledge and experience in clinical care and research. Contact us at cme@theisn.org

<http://www.theisn.org/programs>